

Sports Presentation Evening proves a winner

Sporting students were singled out for praise at the annual College PE and Sports Department Presentation Evening.

Young people taking A Level PE and those who represent the College in extra-curricular sports teams received awards for achievement, sportsmanship and improvement at the party and presentation night attended by around 90 students and held at Upminster Rugby Club.

Chloe Jackson, who represents Great Britain at Judo and plays women's football, received the coveted Women's Sports Personality of the Year award, while basketball and volleyball player Babawande Osiyemi was presented with the Men's Sports Personality of the Year award.

Craig Ingram received the Michael Row Memorial Trophy for his contribution to College sport and Kudzai Madziya was the winner of the Andy Sasiadek Memorial Trophy for the epitome of sportsmanship and enjoyment of sport.

PE and Senior Tutor Graham Hall said: "It was a fantastic night and there were some really deserving winners. The students this year have been great to work with and the College teams have enjoyed great successes."
