

STUDENTS STUDYING ITALIAN TO VISIT SPECIALIST LANGUAGE COLLEGE IN ITALY

Students studying for Italian AS Level are to visit Italy with Havering Sixth Form College as guests of the Italian Liceo Linguistico, a specialist language school in Varese, Lombardy in North West Italy.

During their visit students; Dejan Cancar, Rachel Cleverly, Hannah Cox, Elisa Della Volpe and Amy Shacklady all aged 16 -17 yrs, will stay with Italian students and their families in this picturesque town which has its own lake and mountainous backdrop.

The Havering Sixth Form students will also visit Milan and Venice as well as the local area between Milan and Como.

Italian teacher Janice Brown explains, "This is a terrific opportunity and the best possible way for our students to practise their Italian and make life-long Italian contacts. They will be able to compare their studies and experience of Havering Sixth Form College with that of their counterparts in Italy, something I am sure they will remember for all their lives."
