

Business Studies Student Wins 'Apprentice' Mentorship!

At the AQA AS Business Studies conference on Monday, 15th Dec, the audience of approximately 1100 students was challenged to come up with a new business idea and be prepared to pitch it to the entire audience.

We are not entirely sure how many entrants there were but three students were chosen to pitch their idea. The winner was chosen by delegate vote.

Havering Sixth Form College student, Daniel Breyer, deservedly won the prize, which is a day in the offices of One Water and the opportunity to be mentored by Alex Wotherspoon (Apprentice finalist).

As well as studying Business Studies, ex Abbs Cross student, Dan is also studying History, Maths and Physics.

Business Studies teacher Sue Bannocks said: "Dan was part of the team who came second in the College when they participated in the recent 'Make Your Mark Challenge' and he was a credit to us all. Daniel is a very able and hardworking student and one who is willing to help others in the class, so I am particularly delighted for him with this achievement."

Daniel himself said modestly: "To be honest I didn't realise this would make such a fuss - I received a letter from the Principal about it today! The opportunity to work with such a professional means a lot to me. Without the college though, I don't believe I would ever have achieved this opportunity."
